For the attention of whom it may concern:

I would hereby like to recommend Julio José de la Rosa Lobato, who has developed his professional activity during the last year as an assistant manager in the company MHP Solution Center, focused on the development of logistics software.

During his stay in our company, Julio has demonstrated high skills in task management, communication within the team and with customers, accounting and financial management and a correct work ethic that has led him to improve in all aspects since he joined our group. In addition, he has demonstrated great quality in his work, and has even made strategic decisions with a very satisfactory result.

Among his most outstanding skills are a meticulous financial and organizational management, a rigorous accounting, a great ability in project management and teamwork, as well as a great capacity to respond in complex situations.

All these characteristics make Julio a very valuable member of any team, especially when it comes to the areas in which he specializes.

If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me through the e-mail aguilar-undiano@mhp-net.de or any other means that Julio will be able to provide you with.

Kind regards,

Isabel Aguilar Undiano
Managing director
